HOMEOWNER REHABILITATION PROGRAM
EXPLANATION OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Rural Nevada Development Corporation (RNDC) receives funding for Homeowner Rehabilitation from Nevada Housing Division, Western Nevada Home Consortium, and Nevada Commission on Economic Development Community Development Block Grant (CDBG). Depending on the funds used for your project, certain terms and/or conditions may apply.

Homeowner Rehabilitation uses HOME funds and Low Income Housing Trust Funds from Nevada Housing Division. These are deferred loan funds, which require securing a lien on the subject property by recording a Deed of Trust. These funds do not expire and are repaid when the property is sold or is no longer used as the client's primary residence.

Homeowner Rehabilitation uses HOME funds and Low Income Housing Trust Funds from the Western Nevada Home Consortium. These are deferred loan funds, which require securing a lien on the subject property by recording a Deed of Trust. These funds do not expire and are repaid when the property is sold or is no longer used as the client's primary residence.

Deferred loan funds do not accrue interest and do not require any monthly payment.

Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) are deferred loan funds that are forgiven after three years. A Deed of Trust is recorded to secure the lien, but a reconveyance will be issued at the end of the three year period to release the lien. It is the client's responsibility to record the reconveyance.

CDBG funds are limited and are not used to fund the entire amount of the Homeowner Rehabilitation project.

Repairs requested for the home must be related to Health & Safety Issues, Handicap Accessibility Needs, or Energy Conservation Measures.

RNDC will be listed as an additional insured on the client's homeowner's insurance policy after the project is complete.

I have read the above listed explanations and I understand that deferred loan funds will be used to fund my Homeowner Rehabilitation project, which requires placing a lien on my property. Grant funds may be used, but they are not guaranteed and will not be used to fund the entire project.
